

European Theatre Academy 2018

Join the ETC programme with master classes and workshops during the unique atmosphere of the Festival d'Avignon!

5th to 9th July 2018 - Apply by 15th April 2018

4 Days of Master Classes and Networking

The 4th edition of the annual European Theatre Academy taking place during the well-known Festival d'Avignon offers four days of master classes and workshops focusing on the different aspects of curating and managing international theatre festivals.

The European Theatre Academy aims at providing an overview of different international collaboration forms and theatre systems, dealing with artistic as well as administrative, financial and legal questions in the European context. Participants will benefit from expert lectures on funding and support, production and curating, touring and accessing foreign theatre markets. Several group work sessions will enable the participants to work on specific case studies and delve into practical issues and considerations.

Leading professionals of the international theatre scene will guide the participants and accompany them throughout the Academy which will become a working space of reflection, promotion of good practices and international networking. Moreover, performances of the Festival d'Avignon are part of the programme. The European Theatre Academy aims at offering broad and in-depth knowledge of curating and managing international theatre collaborations for professionals with potential and ambition to grow their international careers.

What does the European Theatre Academy offer?

The participation fee of 300€ includes:

- Academy programme with master classes and workshops with leading professionals from the European theatre scene from 5th to 9th July 2018;
- Tickets to pre-selected performances of the Festival d'Avignon (subject to availability);
- Accommodation in single rooms in a hotel in the city center of Avignon, including breakfast.

The participants will be asked to arrange and cover their travel to Avignon as well as a health insurance for the duration of the European Theatre Academy individually. Meals are not included in the participation fee.

Application

The call is open to theatre directors, managers and administrators as well as touring and theatre production managers from independent companies and institutional theatres across Europe. There is no age restriction. Also, the European Theatre Academy is an opportunity for member theatres of the European Theatre Convention to mentor and support their staff members.

In case of acceptance to the European Theatre Academy, personal presence throughout the entire time of the programme is required.
